I want to give a massive 🙌!

I cannot believe I'm coming up to my one year anniversary of living in my van pretty much full time. It's been life changing to say the least. To sum it up, I am living my dream; largely due to the amazing people at Custom Coach Creations.

I also want to share that while I've changed my layout probably a hundred billion times in the last year before I finally got it perfect; I wouldn't change ONE thing about the build!!!! This speaks volumes with just how good these guys are at what they do.

Firstly, it feels more solid than an actual house. I was prepared for certain things possibly needing to be replaced or repaired based off of viewing hundreds of van tours built professionally and DIY. You tubers will typically post a video of the 10 things they would change after living in a van for a year. Driving a house with all the bumps etc, you'd expect a repair here and there. Nope! This van is indestructible!

Secondly, Bob the owner did talk me out of certain things during the consultation and he was of course, right!! Obviously he knew me better than me even though we had never met. But being the best in the industry and doing this for as long as he has with the incredible staff that he employs, well he just knew. I'm kicking myself now, but of course I wouldn't listen to him about installing a second max air fan. I just had to have my stupid little skylight which I will be replacing with a max air fan probably within the next year. What can I say, you live and learn!

They also went above and beyond with truly custom building things I begged him to do. They said they couldn't promise anything only because they had me never done certain things I was requesting, but man did they come through!! So much so that I never cried so hard(of happiness) upon first sight of my little house (well other than when I first set eyes on my kids lol).

I can't imagine ever wanting to live in a house again. My little house on wheels has everything I could possibly need and has given me the life I have always dreamed of!

I really cannot thank Custom Coach Creations enough for making my dreams come true!!!❤️🥰👍

Hi Bob and Lois, I wanted to thank you for creating my beautiful class b camper. Since I picked it up on March 18th I have travelled over 4000 miles to get back home to Sedona Az. The camper is just perfect for me with only the essentials and more room to enjoy being in it. Leaving the third captain chair in works soooo we'll for me. I used it all the time for resting, snacking, reading and using my iPad or laptop. The camper works beautifully and I am very happy with it. Thank you for the beautiful work you do and for your help coordinating colors and details! For any one out there wishing to have a class b camper I highly recommend Bob and Lois to help bring your dream to reality. Happy 10th year anniversary Bob and Lois! I am glad you enjoy Cozumel!
